We published the remarks of this distinguished gentleman, in connection with the bill to establish a Territorial government for Nebraska, in the last number of our journal, and the same will doubtless be soon illustrated in the bill of Senator Douglass, now before the Senate. The bill was introduced and supported by a southern member. Besides, his commanding talents, and position before the Senate, he is a man of deep and an additional debt of gratitude to Mr. Douglass, and those who so nobly co-operate with him, and in its consideration.

STATE OF NEW YORK

We cheerfully give place, below, to the article on this subject, from the S. W. Independent, and give it to our cordial endorsement.

In the Senate Chamber, Mr. Morgan called the attention of the Senate to a bill which had been introduced and supported by a southern member. Besides, his commanding talents, and position before the Senate, he is a man of deep and an additional debt of gratitude to Mr. Douglass, and those who so nobly co-operate with him, and in its consideration.

Mr. Morgan then proceeded to read the bill, and concluded with the following remarks:

The bill is to be considered in the Senate, and the members of the House of Representatives are requested to give it their prompt and regular attention.

The bill is to be considered in the Senate, and the members of the House of Representatives are requested to give it their prompt and regular attention.

The bill leaves the settlement of slave in the Territories to the two States, and leaves them free, or to be free, as the new States may wish to have it. The people of the Territories have no right to sell for the benefit of the slave. If it be sold, the President of the United States has no right to sell it. If it be sold, he is not authorized to sell it. If it be sold, he has no authority to sell it. If it be sold, he has no power to sell it. If it be sold, he has no control over the sale. If it be sold, he has no jurisdiction over the sale. If it be sold, he has no right to sell it. If it be sold, he has no power to sell it. If it be sold, he has no authority over the sale. We publish the report of Mr. Walker of Wisconsin, in connection with the bill for the establishment of a Territorial government for Nebraska—which is equally able, and as much connected with the interests of the State, as was the report of Mr. Douglass.

We hear of no one who will be more ready to work for the admission of Nebraska to the Union than Mr. Douglass, and we shall be glad to see his bill passed, and the Territorial government established.

The bill for the establishment of a Territorial government for Nebraska is very interesting, and we hope it will be passed. We believe it will be for the best interests of both the territory and the Union, and we shall be glad to see it established.
