

1819 at a resolution of Slavery, Missouri as a

of Berks compromise that instead of extention

y, rejoicing imitation, by cures during ng that be- ne might be permitted

Virginia, Measures of gress, and ed, and any to the com- ill produce

Constitu- ce was 'the e assistance hese Com- souri Com- of slavery.

5th of De- go, Mr. Bu- f Louisiana gone, and e time for it y, the only atical and ere to the est thought out regard- against it. the North"

on doctrine with it into a which old

g. at Herbert.

character, there is a spirit of wisdom to guide-- of love to soothe and unite. I would even now throw myself upon your indulgence to excuse me from the duty of the evening.

From the St. Louis Evening News.

A Difference of Opinion.

It seems that even the slaves of Columbia, South Carolina, have, like their betters, taken it upon themselves to embody their approbation of Brooks' assault on Sumner in a testimonial to be presented to the chivalrous assaultant. The South Carolinian, published at Columbia, alluding to the public demonstrations by the white folks, of approval of Brooks' conduct, winds up as follows:

"And, to add the crowning glory to the good work, the slaves of Columbia have already a handsome subscription, and will present an appropriate token of their regard to him who has made the first practical issue for their preservation and protection in their rights and enjoyments as the happiest laborers on the face of the globe."

This don't suit the Charleston Mercury at all. That strict disciplinarian is horrified at what its Columbia contemporary exults at, and ejaculates its disapprobation of the darkies' movement in a very pertinent manner. "Was the like," asks the Mercury, "ever before published in a newspaper of South Carolina? if our slaves can publicly congratulate, may they not publicly condemn? And if one portion are permitted to laud Mr. Brooks, why not another, if disposed, sympathize with Mr. Sumner?"

On the whole the Mercury concludes that the negro demonstration is a "spectacle as disgusting as it is novel--offensive to every sentiment of South Carolina society, and calculated to bring ridicule and disgrace upon the whole movement." We think so, too.

The Responsibility of the Medical Man.

At the dinner of the Massachusetts Medical Society at the Revere House, recently, Dr. O. W. Jones spoke for the responsibilities of the medical man in the following terms:

"Look into the chamber where our fellow citizen, struck down without warning by the hand roads of accept friendly footin was asked ex nection with an unaccepta Majesty near reason the w was likewise as this govern violation of trary to the r government. ly on the test on original l others. The length the ev ister and cons sion which fo General Cass arise out of t less England

ORIGIN OF action, which which are not jectives, whic of the human thus symboliz question how cific objects f subtle and di Old Testamen lief of the wr vault; but wh that form the that which is pose that ther tween the son analogy betw of the thing

There is a most languag variety of ter the same obj counted for, l the same obj the individual from the Rou down" with a same mental