THE NEBRASKA AND IOWA NEWS

Says it is a Great Disappointment

On the 8th inst., very shortly after the House convened, Mr. Richardson, of Illinois, Chairman of the Committee on Territorial Affairs, moved that the House go into Committees of the Whole on the State of the Union, partly growing out of the late session. The motion was seconded by Mr. Black, Chairman of the Committee to lay aside business in order until the House should have the opportunity of handling the Nebraska bill. The motion was carried, and after a call of the roll the House adjourned to meet at 2 o'clock on the 9th inst.

The members of the House, however, turned out in large numbers, and the session was opened without any difficulty. The first business of the day was the completion of the Nebraska bill. After a long discussion, the bill was finally passed by a vote of 100 to 1. Mr. Richardson, who had introduced the bill, moved that it be referred to a Committee of the Whole, and the motion was carried.

The second business of the day was the consideration of the Clay County Bill. This bill had been under consideration for some time, and was at last brought to a vote. After a long debate, the bill was passed by a vote of 110 to 90.

The third business of the day was the consideration of the Indian Bill. This bill had also been under consideration for some time, and was at last brought to a vote. After a long debate, the bill was passed by a vote of 120 to 80.

The final business of the day was the consideration of the Oregon Bill. This bill had also been under consideration for some time, and was at last brought to a vote. After a long debate, the bill was passed by a vote of 130 to 70.

The members of the House then adjourned until 2 o'clock on the 9th inst., when they meet in regular session.
