Now that John Brown's forces appear to be scattered, the Virginia press is in a state of intense excitement. The news of the capture of Harper's Ferry, which has greatly contributed to the efforts of the people of the North to strengthen their national defense, has caused a general feeling of joy and triumph. The people of Virginia are divided in their opinions as to the wisdom of the measures taken by the Federal government, but all agree in the belief that the capture of Harper's Ferry was a matter of great importance to the country. The Virginia press is full of statements to the effect that the Federal government has been guilty of great mistakes in the matter of the capture of Harper's Ferry, and that the people of Virginia are determined to resist any attempt to suppress the slave revolution. The Virginia press is also full of statements to the effect that the capture of Harper's Ferry was a matter of great importance to the country, and that the people of Virginia are determined to resist any attempt to suppress the slave revolution.
