1-1-2012

Dan Joyner, Furman's biggest fan

Jim Stewart

Furman University

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarexchange.furman.edu/furman-magazine

Recommended Citation
Available at: https://scholarexchange.furman.edu/furman-magazine/vol54/iss4/29

This Article is made available online by Journals, part of the Furman University Scholar Exchange (FUSE). It has been accepted for inclusion in Furman Magazine by an authorized FUSE administrator. For terms of use, please refer to the FUSE Institutional Repository Guidelines. For more information, please contact scholarexchange@furman.edu.
Ruth Barton Hallberrset 128, December 1, Media, Pa. After graduating from Duke University School of Nursing, she worked at a military base hospital in Virginia and later in private-duty nursing in Pennsylvania. She was a founding member of the local Country Garden Club.

Stammore Brooks Marshall III 188, November 4, Johnson City, Tenn. He was a member of the Sumter Garden Club and later in private-duty nursing in Pennsylvania. She was a founding member of the local Country Garden Club.

Francis Hendley O’Connor Bradford 108, November 4, Waveland, Miss. She was a member of the Sumter Garden Club and later in private-duty nursing in Pennsylvania. She was a founding member of the local Country Garden Club.

W. Stanmore Brooks Marshall III 188, November 4, Johnson City, Tenn. He was a member of the Sumter Garden Club and later in private-duty nursing in Pennsylvania. She was a founding member of the local Country Garden Club.

Blair Furman 32, August 11, Charlotte, N.C. She worked as a member of the Sumter Garden Club and later in private-duty nursing in Pennsylvania. She was a founding member of the local Country Garden Club.

Barbara Gresham Cutts 48, November 17, Pendleton, S.C. She was a longtime volunteer with the Girl Scouts and an honorary member of the Daughters of the British Empire.

Kathryn Wells Timmons 148, November 23, Greenville, S.C. She was active in many community organizations, including the Daughters of the American Revolution, Wildwood Garden Club and Greenville Women’s Club. She served on the Furman Advisory Council, the board of the Sarah Gesset Home, and the Christ Church Episcopal School Board of Visitors.

Woodward Ron Dixon, Sr. 99, November 14, Hartsville, S.C. His education at Furman was interrupted by World War II, when he joined the U.S. Coast Guard as a radio operator and served in various stations around the world. After completing his education he began a career with International Shoe Company, building stores and training salesmen in the Southeast. In 1961 he was transferred to the West Coast where he served as vice president of the Western region, based in San Francisco. He left the business world when he felt called to become a missionary, studying first at Columbia Theological Seminary. He was commissioned as a Presbyterian missionary and sent to Central Africa, Haiti, Zambia and the Philippines. He served as a district manager in Columbus, Ohio, and in New Orleans. In Columbus he led the city’s in sales, becoming president of the company’s Atlanta district. He chose early retirement to become a dealer for DeLany’s, the real estate company on Jaguars’ Road, under the name of DeLany’s, and later opened Accurate Mailing Systems. A Rotarian for more than 50 years, he served as a member of the Savannah Yacht Club and former commander of the Marine Corps League. He also served on the radio stations, including the BMW Marathon.

Jack Felton 117, November 11, Greenville, S.C. He served in the U.S. Army in Japan during World War II. After completing his college degree he was employed by Piedmont Natural Gas Company, where he worked for more than 30 years. His wife, Frances Hendley O’Connor Bradford, was a member of the Sumter Garden Club and later in private-duty nursing in Pennsylvania. She was a founding member of the local Country Garden Club.

Mathew Malpass McClellan 45, September 21, Pickens, S.C. He was a member of the Sumter Garden Club and later in private-duty nursing in Pennsylvania. She was a founding member of the local Country Garden Club.

Doris Holdeman 52, September 30, Cleveland Street, Greenville, S.C. 29601, or Joyner’s post office. Grandchildren. Memorials: First Baptist Church, 847 Cleveland Street, Greenville, S.C. 29601, or Joyner’s post office.