A BLOG FOR FURMAN TRADITIONS

Do you recognize this little girl? She was evidently a majorette during Homecoming in 1957, but that’s about all we know!

The Department of Special Collections and Archives in the James B. Duke Library would love your help in identifying this and many other pictures now available on-line at the Furman Traditions Weblog (http://furmantraditions.blogspot.com).

The blog features a collection of pictures, videos and stories from Furman’s past. Who knows, you might see yourself there!

You can also use the blog to share memories of your Furman days. After all, college campuses change and traditions come and go, but memories endure. If you have a story to tell, visit the blog and leave a comment.

And if you would like to contribute photos or other memories to the archives, e-mail Elizabeth McSherry ’07 at liz.mcscherry@furman.edu or call her at (864) 294-2194. She’s the blog coordinator, and she’s waiting to hear from you.
